

As providers of Telecoms DC power systems to some of the world's leading companies, we aim to provide the appropriate services, product support and installation.

Since it's foundation, the team at Communication Power Services Ltd has been supporting and maintaining telecoms DC power systems across the UK and Europe for over 30 years, gaining a reputation for an unparalleled depth of technical expertise. Rebranded in 2005 as "CPS Auxilion", the company focuses on DC power within telecoms installations, in sectors as diverse as Health, Education, Transport, Local Government, Sport, the Utilities, Finance and the Emergency Services.

Why you should talk to CPS-Auxilion:

- . Total solution provider of DC power
- . Depth of technical knowledge unparalleled in the UK
- . Fast response with 24/7 support and technical advice
- . Proficient and reliable engineering service - ISO9001, BSI and ECA accreditations
- . Outstanding reputation for tailoring solutions to customers' requirements
- . The most comprehensive stock of spares including legacy & current

"Auxilion" is a derivative from the Latin word meaning "support and assistance". The new name underlines the company's positioning in the DC power support and battery maintenance industry.

Company director Sheila Blackmore explains: "Technology is changing the way we work. Although our company stands for the - some might say old-fashioned - values of commitment to customers and service, we are re-branding our services to reflect these changes in our industry".

Damovo leans on CPS Auxilion for nationwide support

"CPS Auxilion is customer facing... competent... professional... and a valuable asset to Damovo, providing essential support to telecoms power systems."

"CPS Auxilion has provided nationwide service support to Damovo Limited (formally Ericsson Ltd) telecom power systems for over 12 years. In addition to this essential service they offer excellent support through providing surveys, quotes and installing new projects.

Their work is always of the highest standard meeting all requirements placed upon them whether for service repair, routine maintenance or new work, in an industry that that is competitive and challenging."
